

WE KNOW ENERGY

It's in our power.

HARRIS BEACH PLLC
ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Lawyers you'll swear by. Not at.®

There has been rapid growth in the renewable energy industry in recent years as states and the nation recognize the increasing need to diversify their energy supply. This growth has been fueled by demand and favorable government policies. Wind, solar, hydro power, methane gas, biofuels, ethanol, and demand response programs all show great promise. Harris Beach has extensive experience helping organizations in all aspects of acquiring, financing, and developing renewable energy projects in New York state. Our energy team, which includes former chairs of the NYS Public Service Commission and New York Power Authority, takes an interdisciplinary, no-time-wasted, team approach to provide comprehensive renewable energy related solutions. If you're looking to develop, produce, or finance a renewable energy project in New York state, we have the power to help you. To see how Harris Beach can help you achieve your specific objectives, contact William M. Flynn, our Energy Industry Team leader, at 677 Broadway, Suite 1101, Albany, NY 12207, 800.685.1429, or visit our web site at www.harrisbeach.com.
